BELLESIDE CEMETERY.

The original Burying-Ground set apart for the newly-formed Fergus Settlement in the year 1835,—and afterwards slightly enlarged, lay immediately behind Saint-Andrew's Church ; but in little more than a quarter of a Century all the burying-ground lots had been taken up, and it became necessary to look out for an additional and suitable spot to meet the exigency which had thus arisen.

The result was the gift by A. D. Ferrier Esq. of Five acres from his property of Belleside ; and its first occupant was laid to rest in May 1863. The Municipality of Fergus at a later date, acquired five acres more in case of need.

The Cemetery has been judiciously laid out, and belts of planting have thriven. The Tomb-stones and Monuments of one description or other—are generally chaste in design, and in many cases elegant. The Cemetery is devoid of the picket fences which linger round some few graves in the original Burying-ground ; and enclosures are in general tastefully kept—some, particularly so.

Without venturing to criticize inscriptions, it is safe to say that all are more or less suitable, and that some lines of poetry and some quotations from Scripture, are certainly appropriate, as well as singularly expressive.

It is hoped that no omissions nor inaccuracies have taken place in transcribing—or very few at any rate. The alphabetical arrangement has occasioned in some cases, separation of inscriptions on stones which stand side by side in the Cemetery. (Fergus, 20th August 1883.)

William, son of George & Sarah Petrie of Garafraxa :

died 14 April 1866—aged 3 yrs 2 mos 15 ds.

He's gone, the loved and cherished one—

Like some bright star he passed away:

Death claimed his victim, and he sunk,

Calm as the sun's expiring ray.

'Gone so soon.'

In memory of George Wesley, son of George & Sarah Petrie :

who died Aug. 7 1868—aged 1 year 3 mos 18 ds.

The bud which we esteem the most,

For fragrance, and for bloom :

Oft feels the first, th' unkindly frost,

And drops into the tomb.

'Thy will be done.'

In memory of John, son of George & Sarah Petrie :

who died Aug. 24 1868 æ 3 yrs 6 mos & 18 ds.

This lovely bud, so young and fair,

Called hence, by early doom :

Just came to show, how sweet a flower

In Paradise could bloom.

Sleep on sweet babe, and take thy rest :

God called thee home, He thought it best.

Thomas Pringle died Feb. 13 1867, aged 66 years :

Native of Fife-shire, Scotland.

We cannot tell who next may fall

Beneath Thy chastening rod ;

One must be first—but, let us all

Prepare to meet our God.

For this corruptible must put on incorruption,
and this mortal must put on immortality.

Sweetly sleep, lie and slumber,

Rest thy body in the tomb :

Days, weeks, and years may number,

Till memory fresh shall bloom.
