We are indebted, also, to the authors of "Badenoch 1832-1967". This excellent history of the community provided me with a foundation on which to build.

A special acknowledgment is due to Reverend Young for allowing me to study the church records which were an invaluable source of assistance and to Ronald John McLean for making the cemetery records available to me.

A very special acknowledgment is owing to Barbara Dewar who caused this book to be written, researched for it and contributed information to it.

Any errors or omissions are unintentional and sincerely regretted.

My fervent hope is that this book will instill a sense of identity, a feeling of belonging, and a pride in our great heritage.

In 1831 Peter Grant, Donald McLean, Donald Martin, John Kennedy and Catherine and Alexander McBain left their native land, the Highlands of Badenoch (which means "the drowned land" in Gaelic), Invernesshire, Scotland and sailed from Greenock, near Glasgow, to Montreal. Donald Martin, the McBains and John Kennedy stopped in Glengarry for the first winter, while Peter Grant and Donald McLean came on to Crook's Hollow where they worked for the winter of 1831-32. In the summer of 1832 they journeyed up the Grand River as far as Elora. They decided that that country was too remote. So they came back through Guelph and down the Brock Road, which was then an ox trail, to about the town line of Flamborough where two brothers were chopping and clearing bush. The next day they went with one of the brothers to the Colonel Nicoll farm (lot 35 rear concession 8 Puslinch Twp) then owned by Andrew Stahl. The day after they went out themselves and selected their land. They were joined by John Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. McBain and Donald Martin. They called their new home Badenoch.

In 1833 some one hundred highlanders emigrated from Badenoch, Scotland to Badenoch, Ontario. Among them were John Clark Sr. and his wife, Mary Grant who was a sister to Peter Grant, and eight of their children. John Clark Jr. remained in Scotland to finish his schooling until 1836 when he came with his uncle, Peter Grant who had returned to Scotland for his brother, John Grant. Their youngest child, Malcolm Clark was born on old Hallowe'en, Nov.12, 1833 and was the first white child born in the Badenoch settlement.

John Clark Sr. and Mary Grant and their family worked hard and prospered in this new land on lots 29 and 30 rear concession 8, Township of Puslinch. Like the other settlers they were Presbyterians in faith and farmers by occupation. They had the first team of horses in Badenoch and the first stone house built in the community.

John Clark Sr.'s great-grandson, Malcolm Clark and his sons John Allan Clark and James Clark operate the homeplace today. Lot 31 rear concession 8, Township of Puslinch was chosen by Peter Grant for his nephew, John Clark Jr. whose great-grandson, George Eric (Chick) Clark operates it today. Both farms have been in the Clark family name for one hundred and forty-six years.
